Reach Your Potential

WHAT MAKES US DIFFERENT

Our unique approach to client centred care uses best practice research, state of the art facilities and a multidisciplinary team to help all our clients reach their potential.

We believe that in order to best help our clients, they should have access to a wide range of disciplines which work collaboratively. Bringing all of these therapies together under one roof allows for direct communication between multiple therapists and our clients.

Working together as a team, we are better able to help our clients reach complex goals. Integrating therapies also means unique solutions and help when the client needs it.

EVIDENCE BASED APPROACH

At Concentric, we enact developmental pathways for all of our team to ensure that we continually evolve and remain at the forefront of new research and development. Concentric provides best practice treatments plans for our patients, working as a team across disciplines and supported by the latest scientifically backed data and analysis.

Complimenting this, we are one of the only allied health groups in Australia to actively conduct research within our clinics. This has supported our holistic approach to client centred treatment.

CONVENIENCE

A common barrier many patients encounter is difficulty accessing services. Attending multiple locations across several days can make it challenging to receive the care you need. At Concentric, you can book appointments across disciplines for the same day, meaning less travel for our clients. Alternatively, with home or community appointments our therapists can meet clients where they are.
